The Hudson Museum and the Maine Indian Basketmakers Alliance

Virtual Wabanaki Winter Market

The Hudson Museum will create a Wabanaki artist directory on the museum’s website. To have a listing on the site, please fill in only those fields that you are willing to share with the public:

Name: ___________________________

Mailing address: ___________________________

Phone number: ___________________________

Email address: ___________________________

Website: ___________________________

Social media platforms/other virtual platforms

Facebook: ___________________________

Instagram: ___________________________

Other: ___________________________

Artist Bio: ___________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

Brief description of what you create and sell:

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

You may also provide up to 3 images (please email them to gretchen.faulkner@maine.edu)